Availability of policy for determining compensation amount or the calculation method

Available

The Company's basic policy on compensation for officers is to provide compensation commensurate with its responsibilities based on a strong awareness of maximizing corporate value and meeting shareholder expectations.

[Philosophy on Compensation]

In order to achieve the objectives of our management strategy and to create corporate value, it is essential that we have a compensation system that ensures that we have capable management personnel and that they can fully demonstrate their abilities. To this end, we have decided on a new compensation system based on the following concepts.

- It will be a stronger incentive program that can begin to position our compensation in a comparable fashion to other global medtech companies.
- An incentive program that is consistent with the management strategy.
- Making use of long-term incentive compensation (LTI), this program focuses on value creation and performance evaluation.
- Competitive base salary will be paid compared to major global companies in Japan.
- Introduce claw-back provisions and shareholding guidelines to ensure sound management of incentives.
- Challenging and achievable goal setting improves the motivation of Executive Officers

[Compensation Committee]

The compensation policy and personal compensation for directors and Executive Officers are discussed and determined by the Compensation Committee, which consists of at least three members and a majority of members of the Independent Outside Director, and reported to the Board of Directors. Specifically, the Board of Directors and Executive Officer's personal compensation policy (type of compensation to be paid for each position of the Board of Directors and Executive Officer, composition ratio of each type of compensation, performance-linked compensation indicators), individual compensation content of directors and Executive Officers (individual amounts of fixed compensation, methods of calculating undefined compensation, and individual content of non-monetary compensation), and matters concerning compensation regulations of directors and Executive Officer are deliberated.

[Executive Officer Compensation Level]

- While a standardized, global compensation system is desirable for compensation design for executive officers who are responsible for global management, differences in compensation levels by region make it difficult to attract and retain talented executives by pay levels of Japan. As such all Executive Officers will be compensated within the same structure and ratio for base compensation (BS: Base Salary), short-term incentive compensation (STI), and long-term incentive compensation (LTI). However, actual compensation levels are determined by taking into account differences in pay levels in the country of origin of the Executive Officer. Base compensation for Executive Officers from Japan was set by comparing it with companies (peer groups) included in TOPIX500 in the medical or life science field. The total compensation also takes into account the pay ratio (the ratio of the median between CEO compensation and employee salary). A similar approach is used for executive officers whose country of origin is outside of Japan using appropriate local and regional benchmarks.
- Compensation levels for the peer group are verified using objective compensation survey data from external specialist organizations (such as Willis Towers Watson and others).

[Executive Officer Compensation Structure]

- Compensation for Executive Officers is a combination of fixed base compensation (BS), short-term incentive compensation (STI) linked to the current performance, and long-term incentive compensation (LTI).
- For executive officers who are not from Japan, lump-sum payments and severance pays are also set for each individual to make an adjustment with the previous compensation contracts, in addition to housing allowances and pensions, etc. The amount and conditions set for each individual will be resolved by the Compensation Committee. In addition, whether or not to pay severance pay at the time of retirement and the amount of allowance will be determined based on multiple conditions such as tenure, etc.
- Focusing on achieving management strategies aimed at enhancing medium-to long-term corporate value and shareholder value, the ratio of performance-linked compensation, particularly long-term incentive compensation, was raised for the CEO, and the ratio of short-term incentive compensation (STI), and long-term incentive compensation (LTI) against base compensation (BS) was set as follows.

BS:STI:LTI=1 (25%):1 (25%):2 (50%)

- With respect to Executive Officers other than the CEO, the following ratios were adopted based on the same concept.

BS:STI:LTI=1 (28.5%):1 (28.5%):1.5 (43%)

Note: The compensation structure up to the 152nd-term was BS:STI:LTI=1 (50%):0.5 (25%):0.5 (25%) for Executive Officers from Japan.

[Type of long-term incentive compensation (LTI)]

25% of long-term incentive compensation (LTI) is subsequent grant-type restricted stock compensation (RSU: Restricted Stock Unit) and 75% is performance-linked stock compensation (PSU: Performance Share Unit), and the evaluation period is three years respectively.

Notes:

1. Long-term incentive compensation (LTI) for the 152nd-term consisted of a 25% RS and a 75% PSU, but in consideration of the payment of stock compensation to non-residents in Japan, we selected RSU which is more general in Europe and North America instead of RS and made the LTI combination of RSU at 25% and PSU at 75% for the 153rd-term. We adopted the method that the number of shares (units) in RSU is calculated by the stock price at the time of start and such number of shares is given after vesting.

2. With regard to PSU up through the 152nd-term, amount of shares to be given was varied according to the target achievement levels, and the number of shares to be given was calculated for the amount at the stock price at the time of vesting. With respect to PSU for the 153rd-term, the number of shares (units) at the time when the target 100% is achieved at the start of the evaluation period is calculated based on the stock price at that time, and the number of shares to be given is calculated according to the target achievement level.

[Performance-linked compensation evaluation index]

i. Short-term incentive compensation (STI)

Revenue, operating profit, and strategic goals were used as STI indicators, and the composition ratio was as shown below.

Revenue 30%	Operating profit 50%	Strategic objectives 20%
----------------	-------------------------	-----------------------------

a. Revenue: 30%

Sales growth is essential to achieve medium-to long-term operating profit targets and is set as an indicator.

b. Operating profit: 50%

Established as an indicator for continuing management with an emphasis on operating profit.

c. Strategic Objectives: 20%

Established important issues to all Executive Officers in particular, from among the non-financial targets.

ii. Long-term incentive compensation (LTI)

Operating margin, ROIC, EPS growth rate, relative TSR, and ESG as strategic goals are used as LTI indicators, and the composition ratio is as shown below.

Operating margin 40%	ROIC 15%	EPS Growth rate 15%	Relative TSR 20%	Strategic Target 10%
-------------------------	-------------	---------------------------	---------------------	----------------------------

Operating margin, a financial guidance on management strategy is set as an indicator of performance evaluation.

b. ROIC: 15%

ROIC, a financial guidance on management strategy is set as an indicator of performance evaluation.

c. EPS Growth Rate: 15%

The EPS growth rate, a financial guidance on management strategy is set as an indicator of performance evaluation.

d. Relative TSR: 20%

Relative TSR is set as an indicator of performance evaluation. It is an important standard which makes long-term performance and pay align from the viewpoints of both shareholders and the executive management. The Company has established a list of twenty global medtech companies (companies with medical and life sciences-related operations) to measure our 3-year relative TSR performance.

e. Strategic Goals (ESG): 10%

They are used as an indicator for ESG, which is announced to be reinforced in its management strategy.

Index of DJSI (Dow Jones Sustainability Index) is set as an evaluation index for the following reasons.

- It is a highly reliable external evaluation organization and ensures transparency and fairness.
- The breadth of coverage in the evaluation area contrasts with the expectations of a broad range of stakeholders.
- There is completeness of corporate activities as a whole.

[Performance-linked compensation evaluation table]

i. Upper and lower limits of performance-linked compensation

The upper limit of the evaluation table for respective indicators of performance of short-term incentive compensation (STI) and long-term incentive compensation (LTI) is 200% and the lower limit is 0%.

Notes:

1. For Executive Officers who are not from Japan, when it needs to make an adjustment with the previous compensation contracts, performance-linked compensation is set individually within the range of 0% to 200%.

2. The details of the evaluation table are not described in this report due to the COVID-19. When the impact of the spread of COVID-19 on the business strategy and business plan of the 153rd term becomes clearer, we will review the content of compensation for the 153rd-term and disclose the details along with the content.

ii. Evaluation table for each item of short-term incentive compensation (STI)

The Compensation Committee decided the 153rd-term STI evaluation table concept as follows.

- Establish an assessment table that emphasizes Index to be acquired in the third year, considering the outcome in the first and second years, and set payment rates of 200%, 150%, 100%, 50%, and 0%.

[Level of compensation for directors]

In order to set the Directors' compensation at competitive compensation levels for securing and retaining talented personnel, the compensation level shall be 50%ile-75%ile level compared with the role responsibilities and the peer group in each residence.

| • Part-time Non-Operating Director (resident in Japan) | 7 people |
| • Part-time Non-Operating Director (Non-resident in Japan) | 2 persons |

Compensation levels for each peer group are confirmed using objective compensation survey data from external specialist organizations (such as Willis Towers Watson and others).

Note: One of the two part-time non-operating directors (non-resident in Japan) has requested to decline his compensation and decision of not paying the compensation to him has been made.

[Compensation Structure of Directors]

- Non-Operating directors perform supervisory functions at various points of contact with the Board of Directors, each Committee, and executive officers, and contribute to the creation of corporate value. As a result, in addition to cash compensation (base compensation) for supervisory functions, non-performance-linked stock compensation is granted as compensation for the creation of corporate value.
- Stock-based compensation for Non-Operating Directors shall be subsequent grant-type restricted stock compensation (RSU), and the rights of Japanese residents will be vested upon retirement. The vesting of rights of non-residents in Japan shall be established individually in accordance with the general method of stock-based compensation for non-operating directors in each region.
- Stock-based compensation will be set at 3 million yen for both Japanese and non-Japanese residents. The number of shares to be given will be calculated based on the share price at the time of assumption of office at the General Meeting of Shareholders, and the number of shares will be given after vesting.
- The Chairman of the Board of Directors Meeting receives a Chairman allowance on top of the base salary.
- For Executive Officers from Japan who also serve as directors, cash compensation for the management and supervisory function as directors will be paid separately, in addition to executive officer compensation. For Executive Officers who are not from Japan, cash compensation for management and supervisory functions as directors will be included in the executive officer compensation.

[Shareholding Guidelines]

Shareholding Guidelines are established to share interests between investors and the management (Executive Officers).

Shareholding Guidelines shall be as follows.

- For CEO, at least three times as much as the base salary.

- For other Executive Officers, at least 1 time as much as the base salary.
- We will review the ratio of long-term incentive compensation (LTI), and consider the necessity of reviewing the Shareholding Guidelines when the compensation structure is to be changed.

[Clawback clause]

A clawback clause has been set up to deter the management (Executive Officers) from reckless investments and improper accounting. Clawback is subject to short-term incentive compensation (STI) and long-term incentive compensation (LTI) for Executive Officers. The clawback will be turned on in the following cases.

- An event that requires the refund of the difference between the amount of compensation that have been paid and the amount of compensation that should have been paid caused by a revelation that the information prerequisites for compensation is incorrect or different.
- An event requiring the return of the amount of compensation already paid as a kind of sanctions in the event of a violation of obligation, etc. The final decision on the application of clawback to individual events is made by the Compensation Committee and reported to the Board of Directors.

[Discretion of the Compensation Committee and response to the COVID-19]

- In an unexpected event that significantly affects compensation calculation, the Compensation Committee has the discretion to revise or review the compensation details that contribute to the creation of corporate value.
- The spread of the COVID-19 is expected to have a significant impact on the Company's medical and other business and management strategies for the 153rd-term. Therefore, the Compensation Committee judges that it is necessary to adjust the compensation level described in the preceding paragraph. When the impact by the spread of the COVID-19 on the business strategy and business of the 153rd term becomes clearer, compensation details for the 153rd-term are to be considered again, and to be disclosed in an appropriate manner immediately after the consideration.

3. Increased transparency in management

The nominating committee, which consists in the majority of independent outside directors, will decide candidates for directors, while the compensation committee, which consists in the majority of independent outside directors, will decide compensation of directors and executive officers. These committees will improve the transparency of director and executive officer assignment and compensation decisions.
