Dahua, GKUVISION, SLR Magic LTD., and DZO
Join the Micro Four Thirds System Standard Group

Olympus Corporation and Panasonic Corporation jointly announced the Micro Four Thirds System standard in 2008 and have since been working together to promote the standard. We are pleased to announce that four more companies have recently declared their support for the Micro Four Thirds System standard and will be introducing products compliant with the standard.

The following companies are joining the Micro Four Thirds System standard group: Dahua Technology Co., Ltd., which delivers unparalleled quality, reliability and stability with its surveillance solutions, GKUVISION, a national high-tech enterprise, SLR Magic LTD., which manufactures lenses and accessories for cinematography and photography, and Shenzhen Dongzheng Optical Technology Co., Ltd., known as DZO, a modern private enterprise specializing in optical industry.

As the company responsible for initiating both the Four Thirds System and Micro Four Thirds System standards, Olympus will continue to develop and enhance the product line-up for both standards to meet the diverse needs of our customers.

●Shenzhen Dongzheng Optical Technology Co., Ltd.

Based in Guangdong Province, Shenzhen Dongzheng Optical Technology Co., Ltd. (DZO) is a modern private enterprise specializing in optical industry. Working deep in the field of industrial lenses, DZO now enters the world of camera lenses, a familiar yet new market to them.

Out of huge interest and enthusiasm towards photography, DZO globally launched the first 35mm F1.2 SLR lens for full-frame cameras in July, 2016. VR lenses closely followed after the launch of the KERLEE 35mm F/1.2 lens. DZO designed, developed as well as assembled these VR lenses on its own and gained positive feedback from the market.
